ARRESTED: Patrick Smith

NO COMMENT: Cllr Richard Stay

Couple arrested over emails sent to council deputy leader

A HUSBAND and wife were arrested on suspicion of harassing the deputy leader of a council.

Patrick and Christine Smith of Hyde Road, Caddington, were taken to Dunstable Police Station last Friday. The subject matter of the dispute are emails he admits he sent to Cllr Richard Stay, of Central Bedfordshire Council and also an allegedly threatening comment posted on Cllr Stay's blog, which Mr Smith denies being responsible for.

It is alleged that a threatening comment made on Cllr Stay's blog was traced back to the computer at the Smiths' house.

But Mr Smith vehemently denies that he was responsible for the comments in any way.

Mr Smith said: "The police said emails I had sent to him were being classed as harassment but there was nothing that I wrote in them that was in any way threatening."

"All I said is I am not your little country boy who takes all this stick, I can push a lot harder than you can shove and you have shoved me too far. So do yourself a favour, back off now."

"I was communicating with my elected representative and I am entitled to do that. "And I don't know where the anonymous blog comments came from. The police said they said 'Bushwood is coming to get you' and they were traced back to my IP address."

"But I do not know how they could have been as I did not write them." After being questioned by officers Mr and Mrs Smith were released on bail to return later this month.

A police spokesman said: "A man and a woman were arrested on August 27 on suspicion of harassment. They have been released on bail and will answer their bail on September 23 at Dunstable Police Station."

Cllr Stay said he did not want to comment on the matter at present, while Central Beds and Caddington Parish Councils also both declined to comment.

Police return dogs just days before they 'go on attack'

EXCLUSIVE

sophiescott@lutonsunday.co.uk

SIX dogs which had been removed from their owner by police were given back to her days before they allegedly attacked and hospitalised a man.

An eye-witness claims they saw the ten-month-old puppies – which their owner says are Staffordshire Bull Terriers – bite the arm of the victim, who was visiting the studio flat in Celandine Drive, Luton, on Tuesday night.

The dogs had been taken away from their owner, 31-year-old council tenant Marian Clarke, by the police on August 17 to establish whether or not they were an illegal breed.

Having failed to determine this, the police then returned the dogs to Ms Clarke on August 23.

But on August 31, when a man visited the flat, an eye-witness said the dogs 'flew' at him and bit his arms. He was later taken to hospital and, although his condition is unknown, his injuries are not thought to be serious.

The eye-witness said they are so scared they have temporarily moved out of the flat they own.

He said: "After what happened on Tuesday I just don't think I can stay there any more. It is terrifying."

"The dogs just flew at him and started attacking him."

"I don't know why they gave the dogs back to her. It is a breach in her contract anyway as pets are not allowed."

A spokeswoman for Luton Borough Council, which said she is not allowed to keep any pets at the flat, said: "We are trying to work with the owner in respect of the fact that she is attached to the animals, and we are trying to fund a solution that benefits all of those involved."

"We did obtain an emergency ex-parte injunction from Luton County Court on August 23 forbidding the tenant from keeping or allowing to enter, or remain on the premises, any puppy or dog other than her adult female dog."

"However, by the time the injunction was obtained on the tenant, the dogs had already been returned."

"In order for the council to remove the puppies, it would be necessary for us to return to court and demonstrate that the tenant is in breach of the injunction, and is therefore in contempt of court."

"The police, as a consequence of the incident, will need to find provisions under the Dangerous Dogs Act before they can legally remove the puppies."

When our reporter visited Ms Clarke at her flat, she said: "When I got given Sparkle, I did not know she was pregnant and she had the five pups."

"They fight with each other like all pups do when they come into puberty."

I take full responsibility for what happened on Tuesday. "It is not ideal up there with them but they do have enough space."

Ms Clarke added: "They all went a bit crazy, which is how dogs normally behave."

Police Inspector Rob Bartlett said: "We are aware of the issues concerning a number of dogs being kept at an

Holiday winners jet off to Paris

A LUCKY couple have won an easyJet competition giving away two free return flights to Paris - more than 40 years after spending their honeymoon there.

Pauline Jones, who visited the romantic city with her husband after they tied the knot in 1968, won the tickets after correctly answering the question: 'In which year did easyJet launch?'

The answer, of course, is 1995. easyJet - Britain's premier low-cost airline, and based in Luton - launched its competition on the same day as Luton on Sunday was reintroduced last month.

Mrs Jones, of Dale Close, Dunstable, said: "We entered the competition because we like Paris. I'm delighted."

"I like Paris very much - we went there on our honeymoon."

"We've been back a couple of times. Many thanks to easyJet and Luton on Sunday for organising the competition."

"We like having our Luton on Sunday. It's definitely the best newspaper in Luton and Dunstable. We missed it when it was gone - now we're glad it's back."

Four Vietnamese jailed after cannabis and shotgun find

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

FOUR Vietnamese men have been jailed for a total of 12 years after cannabis worth almost £250,000 was found in a flat.

Police also found a sawn-off shotgun in one of the men's vans outside the flat in Castle Street, Luton, on February 11.

Although none of the men were charged in relation to the weapon,

Timothy Bowden, prosecuting, said: "The van was plainly there to transport the cannabis and if one is transporting cannabis worth a quarter of a million pounds you may require some protection."

Mr Bowden told Luton Crown Court that police noticed a distinctive smell coming from the premises. They obtained a search warrant and returned to the flat later the same day.

He said: "Inside they found the four defendants along with nine bin bags full of cultivated, cut cannabis weighing 43 kilos. Sold in street deals it would have raised £245,000."

He said three of the men were in the country illegally and were not known to have any previous convictions.

One, Viet Sam, said by the judge to be the ringleader, had previous convictions. His residency status was uncertain.

He and Phuc Tran pleaded not guilty to possessing the cannabis with intent to supply. They said they had slept at the house the night before and woke to find the cannabis and strangers there. Both were found guilty.

Toan Vu and Nghe Phan both pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Sam, 34, was jailed for five years, while Tran, 28, was given three years. Vu, 25, and Phan, 36, were each sentenced to two years.

Tributes paid to respected politician who died peacefully at age of 71

A FORMER MP for Mid Bedfordshire has died.

Lord Nicholas Lyell, who represented the constituency between 1983 and 1997, passed away at his home in Markyate on Sunday.

He was appointed solicitor general in 1987 and was made the Government's top law officer five years later.

His family said he died peacefully at the age of 71 after living for 12 years with cancer.

Lord Lyell was first elected to Parliament in the Conservative landslide of 1979, when he won Hemel Hempstead for Labour.

He later represented Mid-Bedfordshire - which covers Toddington - from 1983 and North-East Bedfordshire from 1997 until he retired from the House of Commons in 2001. Lord Lyell was married with two sons and two daughters.

Alistair Burt MP, who succeeded Lord Lyell as MP for the NE Bedfordshire, paid tribute to him: "It was a great honour to succeed Nick. He stood for decent and fair minded Conservative principles, and served both his constituency and country with great skill and distinction, putting his considerable legal powers at the service of Government."

"Politics and the country has sadly lost a good man, but we know his family has lost much more. My wife and I, and all in Bedfordshire, share the loss of Susanna (his wife) and her family."

address in Celandine Drive.

"One aspect of this matter is an alleged attack by one of the dogs on a man in a community area of the address. This is understood to have occurred on Tuesday. As this is an active police investigation, it would be inappropriate to make further comment until the enquiry is complete."

An RSPCA spokeswoman said: "This is a police-led investigation. If we are required then we will be happy to assist."

Police overtime topped £4m last year

EXCLUSIVE

TWO police constables were paid a combined £46,000 in overtime last year, we can reveal.

The Bedfordshire Police PCs received £25,839 and £20,126 for their extra out-of-hours work in 2009, according to figures released under the Freedom of Information (FOI) Act.

Last year 1,107 officers received overtime payments of a combined £4,108,520 – the highest amount since 2007, since when the force has paid out a grand total of £12 million.

In May, our sister paper Luton & Dunstable Express reported that more than £25 million had been paid to officers over the past six years.

Nationally, it has been suggested that budget cuts in England and Wales could lead up to 60,000 police officer and civilian posts being axed.

David Franks, leader of the Liberal Democrat at Luton Borough Council, said: "The police need to pay overtime for their staff but it would be interesting to know how many hours these individuals worked and whether they are excessive to the point where they can't work to optimum efficiency."

"People need to be paid for the hours they work. I'm not saying they should work for nothing but if they are too tired they won't be working effectively."

Vince Hislop, assistant chief officer at Bedfordshire Police, said: "Police overtime gives officers making an arrest the time they need to continue questioning an offender in custody or taking statements from the victims of crime. It does not make sense for officers to have to hand over to another halfway through an interview or investigation because it's the end of their shift."

"It also allows extra officers to be brought in for major operations."

"That is not to say that overtime costs are not subject to a high level of scrutiny by both Bedfordshire Police and Bedfordshire Police Authority."

"The authority agreed, as part of the imposed government's overall revenue budget reduction of £1 million for 2010/11, that a further £250,000 reduction in overtime costs should be made."

"Further work is now being undertaken within the force to assess the ability of greater reductions in overtime expenditure."

Council's top tenth earn more than £50k

EXCLUSIVE

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

NEARLY 240 staff at Central Bedfordshire Council were paid more than £50,000 last year.

That is the equivalent to one tenth of the 2,615-strong workforce, the top three of which each received more than £150,000.

The high levels of remuneration came to light after a Luton on Sunday examined 'Central Beds' statement of accounts for 2009/10.

The person who received the highest was Jaki Salisbury, who was paid a total of £368,788 as temporary chief executive – £250,000 of which came in the form of a golden handshake.

She left her post in October 2009, with the permanent job going to Richard Carr, who commands a salary of £185,000.

A spokesman for the TaxPayers' Alliance said: "With so many workers on executive salaries, there must be significant strain on the budget at a time when all local authorities need to make savings."

"It's vital that the council reflect on how many of these salaries and positions reflect true value for money."

"Taxpayers can no longer afford for local government to carry dead wood."

Last month Luton on Sunday reported how Central Beds spent £22,000 on 45 road signs at £500 apiece to promote itself.

Central Beds Cllr Maurice Jones said: "We have recently undertaken a senior management review which has lowered the number of senior managers within the council by 20 per cent and reduced the number of directorates from five to four.

"For clarification, staff earning over £50,000 which are highlighted in the accounts includes staff working in schools across Central Bedfordshire, not just council staff."

Hate crimes were nearly all racially motivated

MORE than 90 per cent of hate crime committed in Bedfordshire was racially motivated last year.

The figures come on the back of our story last week about an anti-Semitic message which was written across a table at Luton Town Hall.

Foul words were scrawled alongside the symbol of the Star of David in a kitchen on January 22 – but the offender was never caught.

According to a Freedom of Information (FOI) Act request to Bedfordshire Police there were 507 hate crimes between April 2009 and March 2010. Of those, 473 were racial incidents with the most being committed in May last year.

There were two incidents of transphobic hate crime and another two against disabilities.

There were a further 27 homophobic attacks and 12 religious.

A police spokeswoman said: "We are committed to reducing the harm caused by all forms of hate crimes including racial."

"We continue to do everything we can to bring to justice the perpetrators of all related hate crime."

"We urge people who experience such crimes to report them to the police. There are many victims who suffer without telling anyone about the crime."

"We are working with local communities to raise awareness of such crimes and to build trust and confidence of victims."

At a Race Advisory Forum meeting on Thursday the anti-Semitic incident was discussed and will be looked at again in October.

Morrisons green light to force garages to move

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

BUSINESSES may be forced to move if plans for a new £12 million superstore get the go-ahead.

Supermarket giant Morrisons has proposed building the outlet between High Street and Queen Street, in Houghton Regis.

If it gets the green light, the branch – which would be just under half the size of a football pitch – will create 290 new jobs along with 278 car parking spaces.

But car servicing garages near the proposed site have been told they will have to move when construction begins.

Bill Willis, who owns Auto Land, based at Houghton Regis Trading Centre, said he was annoyed that he has not been told when he may have to move.

He said: "I really just want to know when I am going to have to leave. My landlord hasn't told me anything yet."

"I am not happy. It should have been developed ages ago. I just want to know when I am going to have to leave."

The plans for the new Morrisons store were first unveiled earlier this year at a public consultation session held at Houghton Regis Town Council's offices.

Since then a number of changes to the original scheme have now been introduced.

The location of the store has now been moved so the car park is closer to the town centre as a key part of the High Street development.

There will be a reduction in the speed limit to 20mph, improved pedestrian links with Bedford Square and wider footways on the north side of High Street.

When Luton On Sunday contacted Houghton Regis Mayor Robin Hines for his opinion on the proposals, he said: "I don't want to comment until I've seen the final plans."

Morrisons refused to comment when contacted

Asda plans fourth supermarket within 200 metres area

THERE could be four big brand supermarkets within 200 metres of each other if development and takeover plans get the green light.

While Morrisons hopes to get planning permission for its superstore in High Street, Houghton Regis, Asda is also looking to snap up the nearby Netto store.

The area is already crowded for food retail stores, with Tesco Express and Co-op shops further down High Street.

The proposed takeover of Netto is currently being investigated as Asda is looking to acquire a large number of UK stores across the UK.

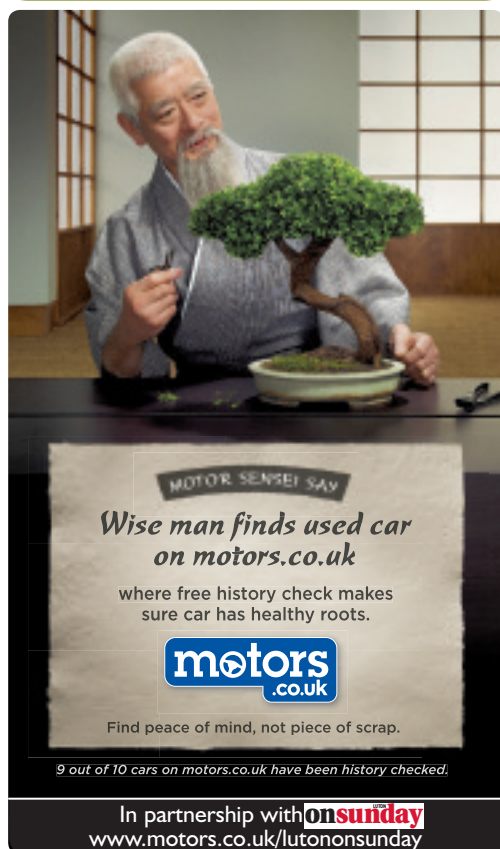

The Office of Fair Trading (OFT) has invited shoppers to have their say as to whether the move may result in a 'reduction of competition'. A decision is likely to be taken later this month.

Netto's managing director, Claus Juel-Jensen, said: "We have been profitable and were awarded 'Discounter of the Year' in 2009."

"As a major league player, Asda is the ideal purchaser of our UK business. We have substantial opportunities for growth in Scandinavia and Northern Europe and believe that the time has come to focus our efforts on the development of our business in these countries."

Further details are available from the mergers page of the OFT website and the final decision will be published at www.of.gov.uk/OFTwork/mergers/

Marsh Farm has enjoyed significant improvement

MORE than 90 successful projects have resulted in 'major positive changes' on a once troubled estate.

The Marsh Farm Community Development Trust, which is due to come to an end in March 2011, has outlined how it has helped the area.

Positive effects include improvements to the environment, better educational achievements, reductions in crime and the fear of crime and an increase in the number of people who are happy to live there.

Over the past ten years more than 700 people have been involved with the Trust, which is in the process of consulting with residents to find out how they wish to be involved in the community after the end of the New Deal for Communities programme.

Licence plan upsets the anti-gun lobby

BY HAZEL SLADE

A CASH-SAVING proposal to stop home visits for some shotgun licence renewals has been slammed as 'horrendous' by anti-gun campaigners.

Plans to halt some home visits for the five-yearly certificate renewals as part of the growing collaboration between Bedfordshire Police and Hertfordshire Constabulary will be put forward later this month.

If they get the go-ahead, it will mean gun users may be able to keep their licences without being assessed in person by police officers.

The plans have enraged Lucy Cope, 55, who created anti-gun campaign group Mothers Against Guns after her son was shot outside a London nightclub in 2002 has hit out against the suggested changes.

She said: "That is a horrendous idea. The one they skip could be the one."

"The blood will be on their hands. A bullet doesn't have a brain, its only intention is to kill."

"Are Bedfordshire Police saying we will save money, but not lives?"

"It's sending out a very weak message. If they're not doing checks, how to they know the gun is in the house?"

The news comes two months after our sister paper, Luton & Dunstable Express, exclusively revealed 49 children own shotgun certificates in Bedfordshire – the youngest of whom is aged ten.

If accepted, the new shotgun licence plans will go out to consultation before being put into practice, with savings expected through staff redundancies.

Gun licence holders would still have to meet certain criteria in order to be considered suitable to skip the home visit.

Sarah Wilkinson, spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police, said: "One of the possible suggestions is that the team may not do some home visits at the point of renewal of a shotgun licence."

"For instance, a retired gamekeeper who has held a shotgun licence at the same address for 25 years with no problems who passes all the other renewal checks – is it really necessary to visit the same premises for the fifth time?"

"Other than that, the procedures would stay the same."

"No decision has been made about any of the proposals at this stage."

Serial speeder banned for a year

A DRIVER who was caught speeding eight times in two months has been disqualified from driving for 12 months.

Silviu Gumici, 26, of Francis Street, Luton, pleaded guilty at Luton Magistrates' Court on Thursday to eight counts of speeding between April and May this year.

Four of the offences took place in Dunstable and one was in Luton. Gumici was eventually traced and arrested on August 5. He was also fined a total of £415.

Convicted of harassment

A MAN has been convicted of harassing his ex-wife and her father after an arranged marriage broke down.

Sameer Babar, 31, of Carnegie Gardens, Luton, was convicted of harassment without violence of two Bedford residents between April and July this year.

Babar will be returning to Bedford Magistrates' Court for sentence on September 21.

Can you help police solve crimes?

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE have released a faint CCTV image in a final bid to track down a woman who waltzed out of a shop with some new camping chairs and a sleeping bag without paying (left).

The thief brazenly walked out of Millets in The Mall, Luton, with the cumbersome items on July 31, but so far she has managed to elude police officers.

Also captured on CCTV (right) was a man who grabbed £80 worth of Moët Champagne and then hot-footed it out of a Co-op.

He stole three bottles from the store in Marsh Road, Luton, on August 25.

If you recognise any of the people in these CCTV images, or know anything about their separate thefts, contact PC Charles Pirie on 01582 394491, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

If you would like to help catch more criminals 'caught on camera' visit www.bedfordshire.police.uk/criminfo/caughtoncamera/default.html

Parking rules may change because times have changed since 1992

PARKING regulations could be changed if it is decided they are out of date – because more people drive cars.

A review into the existing rules in the Chapel Langley area of Luton is being carried out as they have been in place since 1992.

At the moment parking is restricted from Monday to Saturday between 8am and 6pm, with bays currently reserved for two and four-hour stays, and some exceptions for residents.

A public consultation, which is being conducted by Luton Borough Council, is currently under way, and there are three weeks left for anyone wanting to comment.

Councillor Dave Taylor said: "Car ownership and usage has increased since these regulations came into effect, and as an authority we have to look to make sure our services are still meeting the needs of our community and that means residents, visitors and businesses.

"We're asking people to feedback their comments by September 24 so we can see how best to proceed."

New proposals include permit holding and 'multiple use' bays for residents and visitors.

An exhibition displaying the plans will take place on Friday, September 17 from 8am to 8pm, and Saturday, September 18 from 9am to midday, at Committee Room 1, 1st Floor, Town Hall, LU1 2BQ.

Questionnaires are also being sent to residents in the area.

The Muslim protest against the Royal Anglian Regiment and police close Runfold Avenue after a stabbing

RECOMMENDATIONS on how to reduce the fear of crime have just been approved by Luton Borough Council. This week reporter SOPHIE SCOTT discussed the issue with Cllr Michael Garrett, who is chairman of a group tasked with fighting the problem in Luton.

Group's bid to ease our crime concerns

FEAR of crime in Luton is on the up, yet crime itself is going down, according to a town hall group which is charged with finding a solution to the problem.

Since December, Conservative councillor Michael Garrett - who is chairman of the group - and his team have met with more than 250 Luton residents to investigate what causes their fear of crime.

Their responses formed part of a report in which there are ten recommendations including a zero-tolerance approach to anti-social behaviour, giving young people positive activities to do and address the negative perceptions of youth.

The first suggestion is to try and change the media's reporting of crime - that it should focus on 'good' news stories rather than the 'bad'.

In the report it states 'the media coverage of violent crime stories is often selective, distorted and manipulated to gain a public reaction that creates a false picture of crime and distrust among the public'.

Cllr Garrett defended this point, saying it was the national media who often used the bigger crime stories to make Luton look worse than he feels it should be.

He said: "I would like to say I am not specifically talking about the press. It is the media."

"When you watch the TV news you get all the reports from Luton Crown Court and people assume that the crime happened in Luton, when it can come from anywhere in Bedfordshire and the surrounding areas."

"It is the nationals mainly. They don't want the good stories about all the positive things that are going on."

"For example, when the Royal Anglian Regiment protest happened in March last year, they focused on the four or five people who were arrested.

"That's only five people in the whole of Luton."

"They never spoke to people about what Luton was really like."

"The local press do print positive stories and I accept there are going to be bad stories."

"I was very aware when putting the report together that some of what came out was going to upset people."

"I've had calls from ward councillors in Marsh Farm who are unhappy about it being mentioned in the report."

"I do think the last recommendation on the list, about the council taking a zero-tolerance approach to anti-social behaviour, should have been at the top. I knew the media one being put first would be picked up. But I thought I had to put it all in and not skirt the issues."

However, the current financial climate may affect what the group is trying to achieve.

Cllr Garrett explained: "We want to do a lot of things to reduce the fear of crime but unfortunately we are in a time when we do not have so much financial freedom as we have done in the past.

"One of the main costs will be setting up a phone number which people will be able to use to report anti-social behaviour."

"We found that a lot of people would call 999 when it wasn't needed so hopefully this will make it easier for people."

"But we do not have as much money available as we did when we started the group in December last year."

"There are other groups which will be able to help, especially with the young people, for example the guides and scouts, air cadets, church groups etc."

"I know it is not going to be an easy task but it is not something I am going to give up on."

The group's recommendations may have been approved by the council but only time will tell whether any of the plans will have an effect on the fear of crime in Luton.

What price heritage?

SIR - Although I applaud Ruth Fisher's suggestion of turning the old Savoy Cinema into an ice-skating rink (just as I did the previous suggestions of theatre, music venue and conference centre), I fear the current owners of the site (GPS Properties, according to the signage) have allowed the interior of the cinema to fall into so much decay.

Some of this decay looks deliberate (see photos at the Facebook group – The Luton I Remember).

To do anything other than pull the building down would be both dangerous and far too expensive.

Unfortunately for the people of Luton, property developers such as GPS know the value of the land the building stands on is worth far more than the building itself.

As for preserving a fine looking building such as the Savoy and keeping a small part of Luton's heritage intact – well, frankly I don't think they know the meaning of the word heritage.

'The real Liberal vision'

SIR - The British Chamber of Commerce has acknowledged that there is still a real threat of a double-dip recession as cuts bite and unemployment rises.

It's a view I and many others concur with.

Prior to the election the Liberal Democrats were warning against cutting too soon and made a great play of outlining the consequences of doing so.

Yet now they are in bed with their new found right wing allies (the Conservatives) they are reacting more like the Liberal Decimators.

We were being warned (not that long ago) about the impact of Tory swingeing cuts, yet now they are happy to embrace the very same savage cuts they campaigned and warned against.

Such political double standards surely does not sit comfortably with many Lib Dem voters, activists and councillors who see themselves as both radical and progressive.

This is not what you voted for, this is not what you worked hard to campaign for, and it's my belief that many will find it incompatible with what they believe in.

The Liberal Party has the values and the vision and the radical Liberalism to ensure that those who want a true Liberal home have one.

Peter Burrows
Bedfordshire Liberal Party

It's really good to walk

SIR - I am writing to let your readers know that there is now strong scientific evidence that being regularly physically active reduces your risk of developing cancer later in life.

One of the easiest ways to be physically active is walking. As well as being something that most people can do without any preparation, you do not need any special equipment to do it.

This is why we at World Cancer Research Fund have launched our Walking Together campaign, which involves people supporting us by organising sponsored walks for family and friends.

The money raised will help us continue funding cancer prevention

Luton – a city in waiting?

SIR - I do hope that Luton officially becomes a city in 2012.

Politically, economically and culturally, I don't see why Luton cannot make it and survive as a new major ethnically diverse English and British city.

As a matter of fact, I don't even mind standing for election and run to become the next Mayor of Luton one day too.

Leandro Roberts,

research and raising awareness that people can reduce their risk of cancer by eating healthily, being physically active and maintaining a healthy weight. But we also hope it will encourage people to get into the habit of walking, both as a hobby and also as part of their daily lives.

Honesty still exists...

SIR - We are truly living in a corrupt world.

What with MPs on the fiddle, match-fixing in football and the Formula 1 strategy, move over and let me win.

I want to assure young people that not all adults are bent and on the take. We are making Al Capone look honest.

Guilty of insensitivity!

SIR - On Sunday morning I was extremely disappointed to see an article in your newspaper last week headlined 'Jailed driver has new pals with whom he can dine...' about my father (Luigi Muscella) and his recent court case.

Of course cases such as his are public knowledge and you are free to write and publish what you feel.

However, considering your paper is a free newspaper and there is no incentive to publish articles of scandal to sell your paper, I feel you maybe could have been rather a bit more sensitive in this case.

Your highly inappropriate headline has turned what has been a small family tragedy into a bit of a joke for everyone else reading.

I don't feel you have considered that my dad has young children who now have to go to school with their school friends and teachers alike asking them questions which probably could have been avoided if it wasn't for your insensitive reporting.

I and my older siblings have tried our hardest in comforting them in such difficult times and now this will make our job extremely difficult.

I found the headline far from funny and feel a story like this is undeserving of a comical headline.

I don't think you have considered that my grandparents, who have to read that headline, are quite seriously ill and rely on the help of my dad to carry out their everyday lives.

This was mentioned in court but it was not 'scandalous' enough to be added to the article.

Of course you have every right to publish news stories such as this. However, maybe in future you might consider who is involved in the case and the damages you may cause to a family in publishing a story like this.

Learn about security

SIR - GCSE results out last week have highlighted that the number of children taking ICT courses in the South East has fallen by 17 per cent compared to last year.

This is strange given there's a national shortage of skilled IT professionals and these jobs typically attract good wages and a rewarding career path.

It is even less understandable given that children these days are generally surrounded by computers and spend a lot of time online. The Royal Society has suggested that this is because ICT GCSE lessons are 'too boring'.

As a volunteer speaker for the charity ChildNet, I have been into many classrooms and taught students of the dangers that surround them online.

Issues such as poisoned Facebook applications, dirty music downloads and credit card phishing attacks gets them interested and is relevant to their lives.

As such, I believe adding information security to the IT curriculum would not only make it more interesting, but it would also help young people to protect themselves online.

'I'm wheely annoyed...'

SIR - Luton Borough Council has not done it again. Friday is the day our bins should be emptied.

Due to an oversight (I am giving the benefit of doubt here) our bin was missed during this weekly service (August 27).

So I phoned the council to inform it over this and hoped that it would be emptied as soon as possible – only to find that for some unfathomable reason this would take more than 48 hours to be completed.

Now remember this is Friday we are talking about and it is also a Bank Holiday Weekend. So it isn't going to happen.

Why so long?

Well, in these days of fast communication, telephones, email, text messaging and call centres, fast communication at the council seems to have passed it by.

It would appear that to contact someone in the appropriate department to deal with an issue the call from a member of the public has to be passed through to a mystery place referred to as the 'back office'.

From here the message is then forwarded to a department which organises the scheduling of a dustcart to empty the said bin.

Pathetic.

I dare say that along the way there were a few forms to complete, probably in triplicate and in a black ball point pen (that will take a few hours to track down the appropriate writing implement), not to mention a risk assessment of having to load a single bin on to a machine designed to lift two bins.

Well, as no one had bothered to come and empty the bin by yesterday (Tuesday, August 31) lunchtime, I thought why not contact the chief executive's office at the council.

Lo and behold, before sunset the bin had been emptied.

The official in the chief executive's office agreed with me that the bin should have been emptied before then.

Therefore I can only conclude, like a lot of people, that the problem is the 'call centre'.

If you pay low wages, you will get a poor quality service. It would also help if more adequate training was in place.

Perhaps if senior management were to listen to calls, they would quite clearly hear the poor standard of diction and advice being given.

It has nothing to do with cutbacks – it has always been like this.

Only I fear it will get worse.

Motorcyclist killed after a lapse in concentration

BY KEELEY KNOWLES

editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A CHIROPRACTOR died after a motorist had a 'momentary lapse of concentration' and pulled in front of his motorcycle.

Dr Graham Heale, who had practices in Luton, had celebrated his 57th birthday just two days before the collision on June 3 this year.

The bike enthusiast, who was also the captain of Bedford Fencing club, was riding his Vincent 100 motorcycle along the A507 at Millbrook when Carole Cheeseman, 64, turned her Honda car straight into his path.

Dr Heale, of Letchworth, died at the scene from multiple injuries.

On Wednesday, Bedford Magistrates' Court heard the incident took place on a 'high casualty route' and Martin Alexander - a family friend of Dr Heale - said they had written to Bedfordshire Police to see if more could be done to prevent further tragedies.

He added: "The family were too upset to come today."

Retired Cheeseman, of Thor Drive, Bedford, pleaded guilty to causing Dr Heale's death by driving without due care and attention. The court heard that the grandmother hadn't driven since the collision.

Prosecutor Jim Davis said that just after the incident, Cheeseman was heard to say: "Have I killed him? I am never going to drive again."

Defending her, Jane Anderson, said Cheeseman's husband died about 20 years ago and that the couple had ran a chemist in Amptill.

She added: "She had been shopping in Milton Keynes on the day of the incident and was going to drop her daughter off. Her grandchildren were in the car. It does appear to have been a momentary lapse of concentration."

"She is very remorseful."

Cheeseman was given a 12-month community order, disqualified from driving for a year and ordered to pay 150 hours unpaid work. She was also told to pay £85 costs.

After the hearing, Mr Lawrence said of Dr Heale: "He was a very lovely, charming, humorous and witty man."

"He was always very careful on his bike because he knew of the dangers."

He leaves behind a wife and two children.

Katrina is thrown into the mix at Haribo plant

A TEN-YEAR-OLD was one of the first children ever to be allowed inside the secret Haribo plant.

Katrina Arks from Wiggmore, Luton, enjoyed the trip of a lifetime when she ran the company's normally closed factory in Pontefract, West Yorkshire, for the day.

Usually the premises are off limits to the public because of Haribo's strict privacy policy surrounding ingredients and techniques.

Katrina scooped the prize after sending a picture and details of her favourite all time treat and became an official 'Little Apprentice' for a day.

Katrina also tasted new, yet-to-be-launched products and, to top it all off, she was given a goody bag, framed picture and certificate to remember the visit last month.

Thousands stolen by station ticket thieves

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

TWO travellers have admitted raiding more than 50 railway ticket machines – most of them in Bedfordshire.

Mark Loveridge, 34, and stepson Murphy Loveridge, 19, stole more than £17,000 from automatic ticket dispensers on railway platforms across the east of England.

They used metal bars to smash up the machines and steal the cash, causing £300,000 worth of damage.

Police investigated a total of 54 robberies throughout 2008 and 2009, most of which took place at stations in Bedfordshire.

The men appeared at Cambridge Crown Court on Tuesday to stand trial for conspiracy to steal.

However, both changed their pleas at the last minute and admitted conspiracy to steal between July 6, 2008 and September 24, 2008 and then between November 6, 2008 and March 13, 2009.

A British Transport Police spokesman said: "This was a very detailed and prolonged inquiry that looked into a large number of incidents over a wide geographical area."

"The offences caused misery for commuters and we welcome the pleas that have been entered by the defendants."

"Criminality such as this will not be tolerated on the railway and we will work closely with the train operating companies to bring offenders before the courts."

Mark and Murphy, who live in Cople, were released on bail and ordered to return to court for sentence on September 17.

Prosecutors decided not to pursue charges of assisting an offender against a third defendant, Jane Loveridge, 39, also of Cople. Judge Anthony Bate ordered a verdict of not guilty.

Judy looks as The Bill

LUTON ON SUNDAY Leisure guru Judy Riley looks back on the life and times of The Bill - and recounts her numerous appearances in the hit TV programme

SO it's farewell to The Bill, television's longest-running cop drama.

Twilight fell over Sun Hill for the last time this week and 26 years of plodding the beat finally came to an end.

After almost 2,500 episodes, times and tastes have changed. Audience figures plummeted to around 3.5 million per week when the show was moved to the later time of 9pm and it struggled to keep up with sharper, more daring cop programmes such as Luther and The Wire.

In its heyday in the 1990s, The Bill attracted 10 million viewers at one sofa sitting and was aired three times a week in half-hourly slots.

It won a string of awards for its cutting edge themes and grittily realistic action and was sold to 55 countries netting a fair old profit for its makers and some much-needed funds for the thousands of actors who would otherwise have been draining the coffers of the state as out-of-work luvvies.

The Bill put bread on my table more than once. As a jobbing actor throughout the 80s and 90s, I'd hang around all day waiting for the phone to ring (no mobiles then, of course) in the hopes that it would be my agent with news of an interview or audition. The first time I heard The Bill's 'blues and twos' coming to my rescue was in the early days of the Thames TV series.

It was one of my less memorable small screen performances. Cast as 'an angry resident' basically, all I had to do was shout a lot in the street and look irate while the boys of Sun Hill tried to calm the situation.

You may or may not believe in the transmigration of the soul but on the huge, custom-built set of The Bill in Merton, South London, the miracle of reincarnation regularly took place. Some actors were lucky enough to get called back to play different characters time and time again. One year they might be cast as a cabbie; the next a dosser down on his luck and then take a meteoric leap up the social scale to play a solicitor or a dentist.

Seven years after my first appearance on The Bill, I made the taxing emotional journey from A to B when I lurched from 'angry resident' to 'angry cafe owner'; but at least, that time around, I got a name. Eve Bradby had been cheated on by her petty villain of a husband and left all alone to wipe both the kids' noses and the caff tables. She had every right to be angry. And anyway, playing angry on telly in front of the police is fun - even if they are only dressing up and pretending to be officers of the law.

My final appearance in the Sun Hill precinct took place in 1998, shortly before I got out of acting and embraced the straight and narrow path of journalism.

It was disappointing to be relegated to the ranks of the nameless once more and a 'court usher' doesn't really get the opportunity to be angry; besides, any attempt to build up the part by stomping around the dock or cursing at the witnesses tends to be frowned upon by the director and your fellow thespians.

The Bill had an infinite number of actors pouring into the profession every year to draw upon for its huge casting needs and some very famous names were given early opportunities to strut their stuff including David Tennant, Russell Brand and a ten-year old Keira Knightley. But all things pass.

Just as Dixon of Dock Green, The Sweeney and Frost have all been pensioned off to that great police canteen in the sky so, from now on, The Bill must forever be affectionately known as 'the old bill'.

There should be a law against such needless legislation...

COUNCILS up and down the country have been told they can rip up any old by-laws they no longer think are relevant.

This is the Government once again saying it is on a modernising agenda and one where power is devolved down. Until it starts to be about affairs of state that matter, the Government will have to forgive us for seeing this as style over substance.

Worse than that it is playing with language, reminiscent of 1984, or more accurately, Humpty Dumpty in Through the Looking Glass.

'When I use a word,' Humpty Dumpty said, in rather a scornful tone, 'it means just what I choose it to mean — neither more nor less.'

Sounds just like the Government. So we can decide whether or not to repeal a law that allows Aldermen to drive sheep over the town bridge at midnight.

Many old by-laws affected our women. For example it was an offence in some parts of the country for women to beat carpets after dusk, although nothing was said about the children. Another by-law banned women from going topless unless they worked at the fishmongers. Don't ask me why.

And talking of fish, there is a state in America where it is illegal to get fish drunk.

A Royal Prerogative — of 1324 — decreed that any whale or sturgeon found on the British coast belonged to the monarch.

One or two of them looked like they ate them. Swans also belong to the monarch, as was pointed out to a man in Bedford a few months ago, who was caught after killing one for his dinner.

In London there is still a by-law which allows pregnant women to relieve themselves in a policeman's helmet. I wouldn't try it though, as the Met can be a bit touchy these days.

There is one in Chester where any Welshman seen on the streets after sunset can be shot by bow and arrow, a practice which would be a shame to ban entirely.

So I am sure there are plenty of daft rules councils will be able to get rid of. But whether this improves our democracy or modernises government is questionable. First they are hardly in use any more and second have a certain whimsy about them that seems both English and slightly anti bureaucratic.

I also think the Government needs to look at itself before burning all the councils' slightly silly laws.

For example people are banned from dying in Parliament, as that would entitle them to a state funeral. From what I have seen recently they had better repeal this one pretty quickly, or public life will become even more turgid and processional.

I do remember someone once writing to me at work on a daily basis, always with the postage stamp showing the Queen's head upside down. Apparently this is an act of treason, which is presumably why he did it. He was not whisked off to the tower, although I did wonder if I was committing the same crime by receiving them.

A bonfire of old by-laws will not do much harm. It will not do much good either. As my taxes and mortgage rise, while the values of my pension and house diminish and public services all but disappear, I do not sense it will greatly ease my burden. Might 'We stopped people driving their sheep across the town bridge at midnight' be an election winning slogan?

Only if the next coalition includes all the political parties.

CASINO members will be spinning wheels of a different sort when they set out on a 1,000 mile bike ride this month.

Although they are much more accustomed to roulette tables, employees from G Casino, in Park Street West, Luton, hope to raise more than £12,000 for Marie Curie Cancer Care for more free nursing care for those with terminal cancer.

The cycle ride will start from G Casino in Aberdeen on September 22 and will stop at all 12 of their branches, including Luton, along the way.

The final team will finish the journey two weeks later in Brighton.

Luton branch manager Martin Iles said: "This is the first time we have ever taken on a challenge of this level company-wide. I am confident that, despite a few sore muscles, we will pull out all the stops to raise as much money as we can for this worthy cause."

"The work that Marie Curie nurses do is really fantastic and it's great to know that every £20 we raise from the challenge will pay for an hour of nursing care in a patient's home."

G Casino team members and customers are helping to raise £200,000 for Marie Curie Cancer Care throughout 2010 which would fund 10,000 of home nursing care.

All funds raised will help Marie Curie Nurses care for terminally ill people in their own homes at the end of their lives.

String of awards recognise efforts of agent in delivering a top service

AS a fully bonded member of the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA) since 1993, Lenwell Property Services and its staff 'take enormous pride' in delivering the highest level of customer service and quality.

The majority of Lenwell employees have achieved the ARLA 2000 qualification and have extensive experience in the residential lettings business.

Lenwell itself has had full accreditation with the British Standards Institute since 1994, the first agents in the industry to achieve this mark.

Established in 1990 by Robert Wellstead, Lenwell has grown to become the leading Bedfordshire and Northamptonshire property management company of four major offices; 30 full time staff managing in excess of 1,800 properties.

Following on from its 2009 success at the Sunday Times Lettings Agency of the Year Awards, where it scooped silver for Best Medium Sized Letting Agent, this year Lenwell achieved gold for Best Customer Service, gold for Technology and Online and silver for Small Lettings Agent.

In June, it scored a hat-trick at this year's Lettings Agency of the Year Awards.

The ceremony was held at the QEII Conference Centre in Westminster and provided 'just reward' for 20 years of dedication by founding managing director Rob Wellstead and his team.

The Bedfordshire and Northamptonshire company scooped gold for Best Customer Service, gold for Best Technology and Online and silver for Best Small Letting Agency.

In awarding the gold award for Best Customer Service, the judging panel praised Lenwell for its systematic approach, saying: "Their systems and processes are impressive and it is apparent that each has been designed to make the customer experience fantastic."

The panel went on to praise Lenwell for maintaining excellent standards, as well as the team's total focus on increasing their already high standards for lettings and property management.

The panel concluded by describing Lenwell as 'an excellent agency'.

These awards are recognition of the hard work and effort made over the last few years but Lenwell insists it has no intention of resting on its laurels - work is already under way to take the customer experience to a new level.

Tribute acts to provide charity magic

LET ROBBIE ENTERTAIN YOU

Stockwood Discovery Centre
Saturday, September 11, 6.30pm

LUTON Mayor Tom Shaw will be hosting an evening of family entertainment to help raise money for charity.

Keech Hospice Care and the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit Appeal at Luton & Dunstable Hospital are among those being supported by the event.

Pop enthusiasts will be pleased to know that ABBA Magic, one of the UK's most popular ABBA tribute acts, will be headlining and will be supported by Robbie Supreme, who will be covering a full back catalogue of Robbie Williams' greatest hits.

A hog roast will also be held on the night or families are invited to take their own picnics, although blankets, cutlery and plates cannot be provided so people will need to bring their own.

Councillor Shaw said: "The evening should be a fantastic spectacle, with something on offer for all the family. Best of all though, it will help raise valuable funds for a number of really deserving causes that I have chosen to support this year."

"The tribute bands playing are first class and I would encourage everyone to buy a ticket for the event."

Tickets are £17 per person, concessions £15 per person and family tickets for four are £55.

They can be obtained from the Library Theatre and the Hat Factory in Luton.

U BE DEAD ITV1, 9pm

The drama is based on a true story from 2007, when Maria Marchese was sentenced to nine years in prison for viciously stalking a London doctor, his family and even the lawyer who prosecuted her. The Metropolitan Police called it "one of the worst cases of stalking we have ever had to investigate". Those who were affected by what happened have contributed to make sure the programme is as accurate as possible. Morrissey plays Dr Jan Falkowski, a psychiatrist whose life is thrown into disarray by a series of threatening texts and phone calls. When the final message comes through — stating U Be Dead — the police close in. Tara FitzGerald stars.

Living the dream

FABIO CAPELLO insists managing England is still his dream job, despite all the flak flying in his direction.

Capello answered his critics in the best possible manner on Friday as England emerged from their World Cup hell to demolish Bulgaria 4-0 at Wembley and get their Euro 2012 campaign off to a perfect start.

Stiffer challenges lie ahead, not least on Tuesday when England head to Basle and a meeting with a Switzerland team good enough to beat eventual winners Spain in South Africa.

Only then will Capello – and a sceptical public – have an idea about England's likely progress towards the finals.

Yet, after taking up his £6million-a-year job with such enthusiasm almost three years ago, Capello is adamant his thirst for the task remains undimmed. "It is still the dream job," he said. "I have a lot of passion, and I am a fighter. I always need to fight. That is my mentality. It is my life. "This is a fantastic job and I still have confidence in this team. And I think we can improve."

Capello deployed Wayne Rooney in the space between central midfield duo Steven Gerrard and Gareth Barry and hat-trick hero Jerrmain Defoe on Friday, and the Manchester United star provided three genuine assists and a significant contribution to England's early opener.

"I am really happy with Wayne Rooney's performance," said Capello.

"I asked him to stay in that position and he did everything perfectly."

Capello has reason to be hugely relieved that Defoe delayed groin surgery, and encouragement can also be taken from an outstanding performance from keeper Joe Hart, making his first appearance in a competitive game.

Phil Jagielka remained solid at the heart of England's defence, although the Everton man lost new partner Michael Dawson to a nasty injury. A scan ruled him out of the Switzerland match and he was immediately cleared to return to his club by the FA, who have no plans to call up another defender.

Now for Switzerland, and, as Capello will be aware, any side coached by the wily Ottmar Hitzfeld has to be respected.

But Switzerland are clearly beatable, and should England claim a win that would surely provide a platform for victory against Montenegro at Wembley next month, Capello will have regained the moral high ground.

WOMEN'S RUGBY UNION: WORLD CUP FINAL

ENGLAND captain Catherine Spencer has warned New Zealand that their stranglehold on the World Cup has come to an end.

The fiercest rivalry in women's rugby will resume in today's final at The Stoop, where the Black Ferns will be hoping to win the tournament for a fourth successive time.

In 2002 and 2006 it was England who finished runners-up but they are convinced they now have the ability to dethrone the Kiwis.

The last time they clashed was at Twickenham last November when England clinched a famous victory and Spencer knows they can repeat that achievement today.

"The win in the autumn has provided us with huge confidence, and we know we can beat New Zealand. We've both largely got the same squads as then," said the Bristol No.8.

"We've also stepped up a level each time we've played in this tournament, so that has also given us confidence. "We've just got to keep performing and take our chances."

Colly's sadness at spot-fixing

PAUL COLLINGWOOD has described the spot-fixing allegations from the Lord's Test with Pakistan last week as one of the lowest points of his career.

The England Twenty20 captain was preparing his side for today's clash with Pakistan in Cardiff at the end of a week in which three Pakistan cricketers have come under investigation.

And Collingwood admitted: "There was an air of sadness around the ground."

"Sunday at the Test match, it's fair to say, was one of the lowest points I've got as a cricketer."

"It wasn't a very nice atmosphere to have the allegations around. You want cricket to be remembered for the right reasons."

Tigers pack hit by injury crisis

RUGBY UNION

Aviva Premiership

LEICESTER begin the defence of their domestic rugby crown at Northampton today with new signings George Skivington and Thomas Waldrom in their pack.

But the Tigers pack will be without Tom Croft, Jordan Crane, Geoff Parling, Richard Blazey and Louis Deacon through injury.

Saints will look to make an immediate statement in front of a capacity crowd, and director of rugby Jim Mallinder said: "This is a massive game for us."

Exeter began life in the top flight with a 22-10 win over Gloucester while, in the two matches at Twickenham, London Irish beat Saracens 33-16, and Wasps drew 29-29 with Harlequins.

FA VASE 1ST QUALIFYING RND

AFC Dunstable, in their first ever FA Vase match, hammered Bedford 5-0 away from home.

AFC took a second-minute lead from Ryan Quinn's penalty after Courtney Massey was fouled.

Richard Parker bundled in the second from Chris Crook's cross, before BJ Christie made it three before the break.

Mike Pinlock stunningly chipped the keeper from 40 yards for the fourth, before Christie made it 5-0 from close range.

Dunstable Town persevered through extra-time to beat Hanwell Town 4-2. After a goalless first-half, Grant Carney volleyed Town in front, before Paul Taylor's mistake gave Hanwell an equaliser. After going 2-1 down, Carney spectacularly equalised for Town by flicking the ball over the keeper in the final minutes. It was 2-2 after 90 minutes, but Luke Lincoln and Dean Whittaker scored in extra-time to win the match for Town.

Crawley Green lost 1-0 to Welwyn Garden City after a 95th minute howler from their keeper Scott Bates, who sloppily let a tame shot through his legs.

CHALLENGE TROPHY 1ST RND

TOTTERNHOE stormed to their second victory over Caddington in a week with an impressive 4-0 victory.

Ross Morrissey scored two early goals including a 20 yard volley with James McArthur and Stefan Tracey sealing the game before the break.

Caddington's Daniel Fleming hit a powerful shot which went just wide late on.

Kent Athletic suffered a heavy 3-1 defeat to New Bradwell despite leading 1-0 early on through Darren Lynch's header.

Andrew Hearfon was stretchered off due to a groin injury seeing Kent go down to ten men. New Bradwell capitalised in the last 15 minutes.

Brache could only grab a late Alex Igori consolation goal against Cranfield who went away with a comfortable 2-1 victory.

Cranfield opened the scoring early on with a header.

Sean Duigun then scored a deflected own goal on 57 minutes to double Cranfield's lead.

Brache manager Mark Teeling also resigned earlier in the week, making it a disappointing week.

SOUTH MIDLANDS DIV TWO

THE 61FC romped to an emphatic 8-0 win at Bletchley Town, with Ryan Fazel helping himself to a hat-trick.

The 61FC were unbeaten so far this season, while Bletchley were yet to win a game, and they were unable to upset the odds.

Although it was just 2-0 at half-time, the hosts had two men sent off in the second period, as 61FC took control.

Daniel Wills and Matt Terry scored two each, and Chris Matt completed the rout.

minute chance. But, the hosts struggled to implement themselves in the match and Northwood took the lead after half-an-hour, with a confident finish from the edge of the area which left Barton helpless.

The visitors were buoyed by their goal and Barton had to weather a storm before half-time and would have been reasonably content to only be trailing by one goal at the break.

After half-time, Barton looked a different side and took the game to their opponents without being able to carve out any real opportunities. They fully deserved the equaliser that Paul Andrews scored after 60 minutes. Andrews, a centre-back for whom goals are scarce, powered in a header from a corner.

Both sides cancelled each other out for the remaining 30 minutes, until the talking point of the match in stoppage time.

Barton's Taylor Nathaniel was sent off for a wild tackle which sparked a mass brawl, in which a Northwood player was also dismissed.

FIGHT FOR THE BALL: Adam Newton shrugs off his opponent

BLUE SQUARE BET PREMIER

GRIMSBY TOWN 2
LUTON TOWN 0

LUTON Town suffered the curse of the camera's as they controversially lost their non league television debut at Blundell Park.

The game, being shown live on Premier Sports as part of the Blue Square Bet's new TV deal, saw the Hatters lose to Grimsby, who were relegated from League 2 last season.

A disputable penalty scored by Alan Connell and a second half header from Micky Cummins, gave the Mariners a 2-0 win in a game that, on another day, Luton would have come away with at least a draw.

Luton were rewarded for their attacking play early on with a free kick on the edge of the box after Claude Gnappa was brought down by the Mariners' Mark Hudson. Kevin Gallen's free kick was well saved by Grimsby Keeper Richard O'Donnell, despite it taking a deflection.

Gallen was involved again, in the first real chance of the match. It came in the fifth minute when he turned and shot in the box only to see it deflected over the bar. From the resulting corner, Adam Murray saw his 20-yard strike skim the Grimsby bar.

It took nearly 20 minutes for Grimsby to threaten the Hatters with a half chance. Zdenek Kroca intercepted a neat through ball from Lewis Gubern, but the Mariners couldn't make anything from the resulting corner, as their centre half, Steven Watt, headed over.

This seemed to give the coastal team some confidence as soon after Alan Connell volleyed over the Hatters' goal.

In the 25 minute, Gnappa made another fantastic run down the wing beating two defenders and putting in a low cross to Gallen, whose shot was again deflected over.

Despite winning another corner, Luton couldn't make the pressure count, and they were nearly punished moments later when Mark Tyler made a smart save at his near post from Connell.

Eventually they were punished from the resulting pressure, in albeit a controversial way. Grimsby won a corner which was headed by Darren Kempson into to arm of Shane Blackett who was harshly penalised by the referee, who pointed to the spot. Connell slotted the ball past Tyler to give the Mariners the lead against the run of play.

Luton responded well, but never had any clear cut chances to get level, until just before half time when Town won a free kick in the centre circle and the lofted ball was headed straight into Grimsby keeper's arms by Kroca.

Right on the stroke on half time, Luton had the chance of the match. A Gnappa header from an in-swinging corner was cleared off the line by Mark Hudson, but Luton had to go in at the break a goal down.

Luton came out for the second half in a determined manner, and in the 51st minute, Luton won a free kick on the edge of the box, but it came to nothing, despite

BARTON earned a hard-fought point against a strong Northwood side, although a highly-competitive match was overshadowed by two red cards in the last minute.

Barton defended exceptionally well throughout the match against the visitors, who were limited in their attacking play after missing a third-minute chance. But, the hosts struggled to implement themselves in the match and Northwood took the lead after half-an-hour, with a confident finish from the edge of the area which left Barton helpless.

The visitors were buoyed by their goal and Barton had to weather a storm before half-time and would have been reasonably content to only be trailing by one goal at the break.

Hatters pay hard televised match

PAYING THE PENALTY: Claude Gnarkpa competes for the ball and above, Alan Connell fires his spot kick past Mark Tyler after Shane Blackett was punished for a handball

the appeals of the Town fans behind the goal who felt Barnes-Homer had been held as he challenged for the ball.

A moment later, Barnes-Homer smashed his shot into the near post after running down the left wing, beating the Grimsby defender, and shooting. Luton were starting to think that the cameras were a curse as nothing was going to go their way, despite deserving to be on level terms.

As the second period went on Grimsby took control of the game, playing neat possession football in the Hatters' half. Luton's only outlet to the pressure were long balls down the flanks aim at Barnes-Homer, Gnarkpa, and the substitute Danny Crow, on for Kevin Gallen.

In the 70 minute Luton were made to pay as Cummins headed home a Gourn corner to double the Mariners lead.

Richard Money tried to get a goal back by bringing on new signing Tiawo Atieno, and it nearly paid off when his header was well saved by the Grimsby keeper with ten minutes to go.

In the end, Luton couldn't turn their late pressure into a consolation goal, whilst it was Grimsby who looked like adding to their lead on the counter attack.

Kenny is stand-out star in season opener win

NATIONAL THREE MIDLANDS

LUTON were narrowly edged out 30-22 on the first day of the season at home to Broadstreet.

Despite an encouraging performance with plenty of entertaining rugby, Luton couldn't overcome the visitors, who are expected to be one of the league's strongest teams this season after being relegated last term.

Aiden Kenny was the standout performer for Luton, whose endeavour could have earned them a different result with better luck.

Kenny scored two of the host's four tries, with the second particularly impressive.

A quick move with exceptional handling was shifted to Kenny on the wing, who beat his man and scored clinically.

The score was 15-15 at half-time and was thrilling for the neutrals. Luton were proving a stubborn team to beat on home soil, as Lawrence Alben and Alex Sutherland scored tries for the home side.

But, the power of Broadstreet's forwards was the difference, condemning Luton to defeat.

MIDLANDS ONE EAST

DUNSTABIANS suffered a heavy defeat away at title contenders Syston.

The visitors started eight debutants and started the game well but couldn't hold an experienced Syston who walked away with a 53-8 victory.

Reece Bowles touched down on ten minutes to open the scoring but the conversion was unfortunately missed.

Syston then took control before Jake Hobbs managed to hit a drop goal to make the half-time score 29-8.

Syston scored two early tries in the second half to cement their win as Dunstabians struggled to sustain the pressure of the Syston pack.

Dunstabians hope for a better result against Derby next Saturday at home.

Taiwo's glad to be back

NEW Luton Town signing Taiwo Atieno believes the club can get promoted this season and keep rising until they return to the heights of the Championship.

The 25-year-old free agent joined the Hatters on a one-year deal on Thursday and, after a loan spell at the Blue Square Bet Premier club last season, has seen enough to suggest that good times are on the horizon.

He said: "If you are a professional footballer you want to win things and Luton is probably the best club to be playing for outside of League One.

"If we can get promoted out of this league, there's no reason why we can't get back to where we used to be in the Championship. With the quality of players that are here, it's not impossible, but it's going to be hard."

"When I came at the end of last season, it was unfortunate because I had a cut on my achilles from a (reserve) game against Ipswich. It ruled me out for a few weeks.

"For football reasons I wanted to stay but it was financially better for me in South Africa. That didn't work out and Richard gave me the opportunity to come back, so I was pleased to accept it.

"I feel like I've grown as a player and a person, so I'm able to bring that into my game to hopefully benefit Luton.

"This year, I want to work on scoring as many goals as I can, and get in opportunities where I can be effective.

"I want to pull on the shoulders of defenders, especially in this league, because they're mostly slow. I want to score some goals."

U's bid triggered Craddock clause

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

A CLAUSE in Tom Craddock's contract was invoked by Oxford United and that's why the striker was given permission to speak to the Football League club before making the switch on transfer deadline day.

Luton Town manager Richard Money revealed that Blue Square Bet Premier rivals Crawley Town had first met their valuation for last season's top goalscorer, but that the club didn't want him to go there, and the player didn't either.

But the Hatters chief, who brought in Brixton-born, Kenyan international Taiwo Atieno on Thursday as a replacement, said that there was no point trying to keep a player who had set his heart on heading for the exit door.

He couldn't reveal whether Town had made a profit on the £80,000 they had paid Middlesbrough for the striker but said he didn't think there was any sell on fee to be paid to the Championship club.

He said: "Suffice to say, the fee was enough for us to let Tommy go and speak to Oxford.

"There was a release clause in his contract, that was first invoked by Crawley. We refused because we didn't want him to go there. Tommy didn't want to go.

"But when Oxford met the clause it was his decision to go and speak to them."

Despite the departure of Craddock, the manager said the future of the club is very healthy.

"This club has the lowest budget it has had in the modern era. It is now manage-able and competes with the rest at the top of the table, but no more.

"History is history, as far as I'm concerned. It's my job as manager to make tough decisions. Sometimes they're popular and sometimes they're unpopular.

"I recognise that the only thing that will appease the support of our football club, or any other, is results on the pitch.

"I would suggest our results since I've been manager have been pretty good. I don't really want to talk about the past.

"We've brought Atieno in, who I think is going to be a real interesting replacement.

"We are very close to signing Jake Howells on a two year contract. We are in discussions with Claude (Gnakpa) about a new contract. We have given Dan Walker and Godfrey Poku extensions, who are part of our very talented young group of players.

"There is a very, very, very good club re-emerging here for the first time. It's my job to make sure we are playing in the Football League next year. If we can do that then we have a very talented group of players in the first team squad, and more than talented group of young players coming.

"I've watched our under-14s, 15s and 16s recently, and I can say we have had a number of Premier League clubs banging on our door for some of our players.

"That's a good situation to be in, but we have to make sure we are a Football League club. I won't shy away from my responsibility and I certainly won't shy away from making crucial decisions. History doesn't bring you anything for the future. We have to build from here.

"I think as a manager you want to keep all your good players but I think, as York have just found with (Richard) Brodie (who signed for Crawley), once the player's made his mind up and he wants to go elsewhere then in most cases you're beginning to fight a losing battle.

"That being the case, it's the job of the club to realise that asset and make sure the transfer fee is acceptable.

"My job is to make sure we either already have replacements or to bring a replacement in. I could argue that we already replaced Tommy Craddock with Danny Crow on a free transfer.

"He scored 24 goals for Cambridge last year, but the opportunity to bring Taiwo Atieno back to the club has presented itself, so we've done that as well."

Asked to described his newest recruit, who spent time on loan at Kenilworth Road last season before injury blighted his stay, Money said: "He's a different proposition to the other strikers that we have. He's taller, more aggressive and, when we brought him in last year, we brought him in purely for cover. But also to have a look at him with a thought process that we might give him an opportunity this season.

"We thought that had gone, but Tommy leaving this week presented us with an opportunity to bring another striker in.

"People probably don't really realise what his pedigree is. You don't go to the top two leagues in America and score goals if you're not a good player.

"In the summer, he was offered a contract in the South African Premier League, which is a good standard.

"He didn't sign a contract to our benefit."
